

REGISTER NOW

Research to Practice

Suicide Prevention for LGBTQ Communities

April 9, 2016

9 a.m. – 5 p.m.

University of Maryland College Park

Stamp Student Union

3972 Campus Drive

College Park, MD 20742

AFSP invites mental health professionals, educators and community leaders to join us for this one-day conference focused on suicide risk within the LGBTQ community. Nationally recognized experts from the field will share current research findings and the most promising programs that work to prevent suicide.

FEATURED SPEAKERS:

Caitlin Ryan, Ph.D., ACSW, Director, Family Acceptance Project,
San Francisco State University

John R. Blosnich, Ph.D., Consulting Scientist, American Foundation for Suicide Prevention;
Research Health Scientist, Department of Veterans Affairs

Vincent Silenzio, M.D., M.P.H., University of Rochester Medical Center,
School of Medicine & Dentistry

To register, visit afsp.org/maryland or contact sschreiber@afsp.org

AMERICAN FOUNDATION FOR Suicide Prevention

afsp.org