

TOBACCO

MARYLAND

Please support raising the age of sale for tobacco products to 21.

- In Maryland, 1,900 kids under 18 become addicted to smoking every year. And one-third of them will die prematurely as a result.
- About 95 percent of adults who smoke began smoking before age 21. The ages of 18 to 21 are a critical time when many people who smoke move from experimental smoking to regular, daily use.
- According to the Institute of Medicine, raising the national sale age of tobacco products to 21 could help reduce the prevalence of smoking by 12%, saving lives and dollars.
