Explanations

The percentage represents the estimated proportion of individuals (students) who reported experiencing intimate partner violence in a given year.

A value of 9.6% in 2013 means that 9.6 out of every 100 surveyed individuals in that region (or school level) reported experiencing intimate partner violence in that year.

The confidence interval gives a range within which the true percentage likely falls. For example, if the 2013 estimate is 9.6% with a lower bound of 8% and an upper bound of 11.4%, we are reasonably confident the true percentage lies between 8% and 11.4%, accounting for sampling uncertainty.
